SPARK'71

"The most important function of education at any level is to develop the personality of the individual and the significance of his life to himself and to others. This is the basic architecture of life; the rest is ornamentation and decoration of the structure."

Park is a gamut of people responding and sharing each others ideas and opinions, instilling within its pupils maturity and self-confidence needed for the future. To all of us, Park will represent a little more. It is a place to love, to learn and lastly to leave, full of memories and appreciation.

"I'll be forever walking upon these grounds,
Betwixt the pond and classrooms
The rains will erase my footprints
And the wind will blow away my voice
But the path, the pond, these grounds will remain forever."

To everything there is a season,
And a time to every purpose under heaven:
A time to be born, and a time to die;
A time to plant, and a time to pluck
up that which is planted;
A time to kill, and a time to heal;
A time to break down, and a time to build up;
A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
A time to mourn, and a time to dance;
A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; . . .

A time to embrace,
and a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to seek, and a time to lose;
A time to keep, and a time to cast away;
A time to rend, and a time to sew;
A time to keep silent, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate;
A time for war, and a time for peace.

Go to those who have delicate lust,
Go to those whose delicate desires are thwarted,
Go like a blight upon the dullness of the world;
Go with your edge against this,
Strengthen the subtle cords,
Bring confidence upon the algae and the tentacles of the soul

For poetry makes nothing happen: it survives
In the valley of its saying

You tell me that silence is nearer to peace than poems
but if for my gift
I brought you silence
(for I know silence)
you would say
This is not silence,
this is another poem
and you would hand it back to me.

The Chapins

"Remind yourself that the world is what we make it, and that to the making of it each one of us can contribute something. This thought makes hope possible; and in this hope, though life will still be painful, it will be no longer purposeless."

Some men possess the invaluable quality of inspiring everything they come in contact with. They are so dedicated to a certain philosophy that they have a natural instinct to inspire and generate new ideals and values. These men are true leaders and their singular understanding make them a tremendous asset to their followers and associates. Mr. E. Barton Chapin is such a man.

For over twenty years at the Park School, first as a member of the faculty and then as Headmaster, Mr. Chapin has adhered to his belief of progressive, individualized education. He has succeeded in making Park not only a school for academic achievement but also a place where a student can develop his potential through liberty of thought and action. He has helped found Park on the principle of awareness and freedom of expression.

We are all saddened at his departure and we believe we express the feelings of all alumni, parents, students, trustees, faculty and all other members of Park's community when we say that the accomplishments of Mr. Chapin have been manifold and greatly appreciated. The important point, however, is that Park School remain a place of vital learning and spirit. Mr. Chapin stated, above all else, "Keep your ideas of Park School clean."

We have heard your words and they will be remembered as will your deeds.

Thank you, Mr. Chapin, for your countless hours of determination, thought and care.

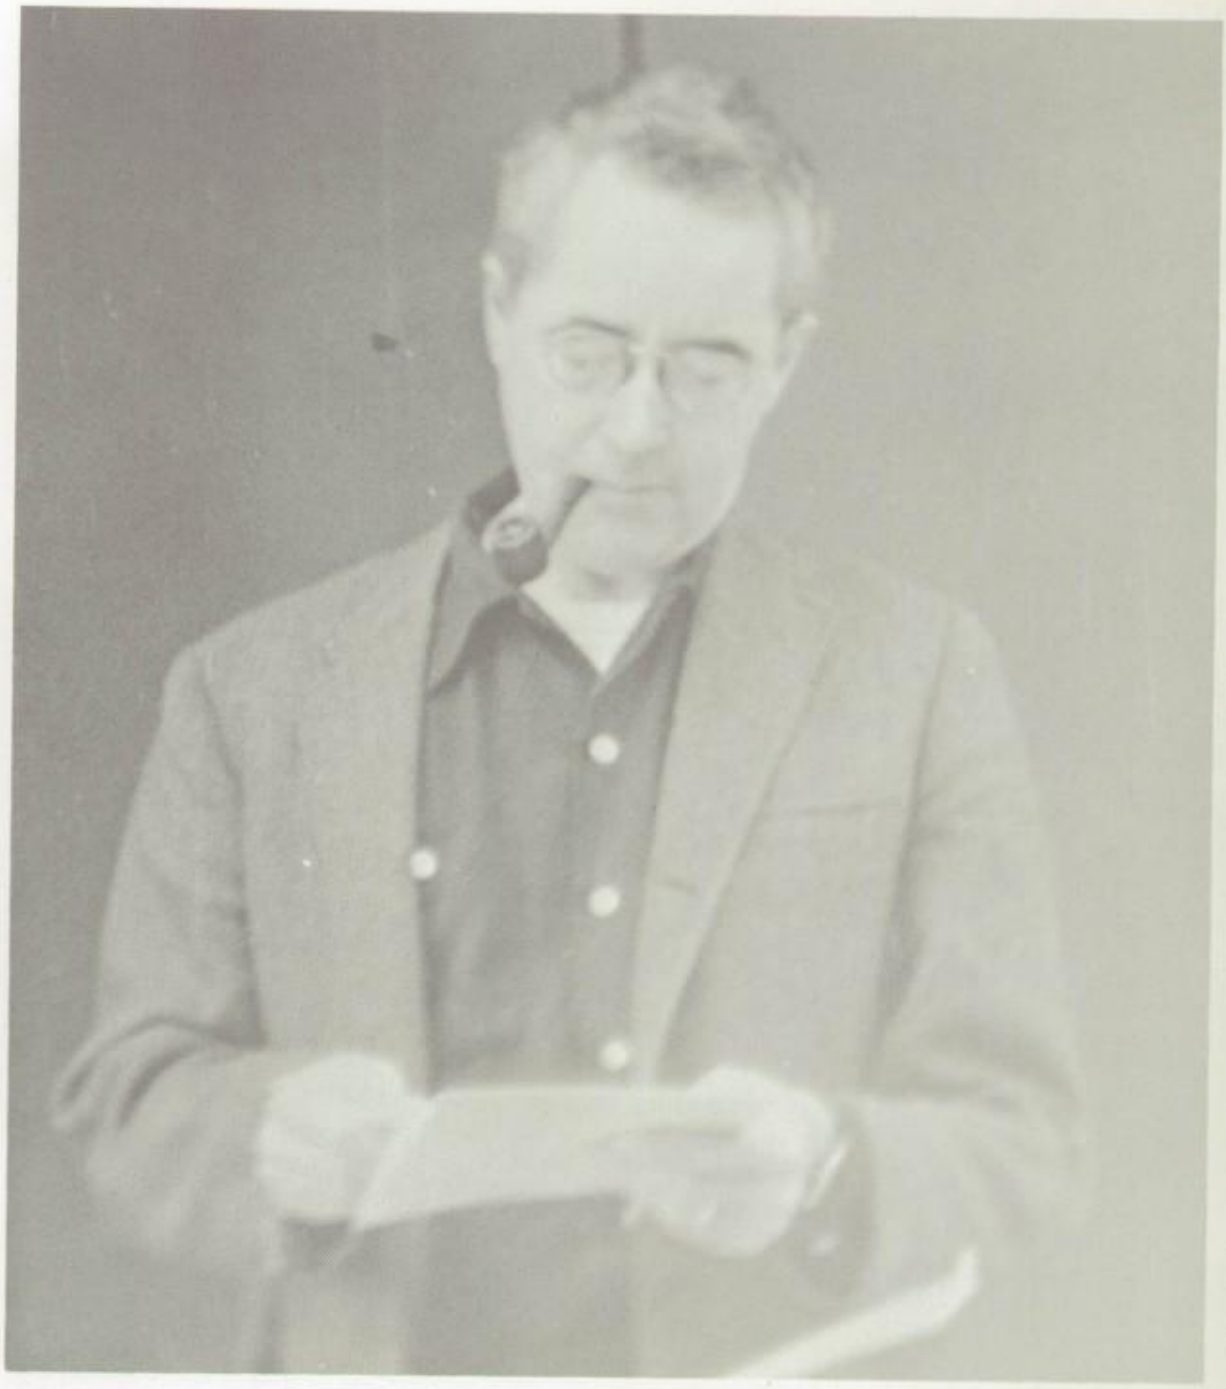
SENIORS

Dedication



"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

He has taught us to avoid the trivial in our search for greater meaning in literature and situations confronting us. He has provided us with the inspiration to understand the philosophy of life and nature and how it relates to everyone of us. Park School is founded upon the principle of educational development of the intellect in both tangible and intangible areas. Park is an experience in giving and receiving. This man has not told us what to think but he has given us the means by which to think.

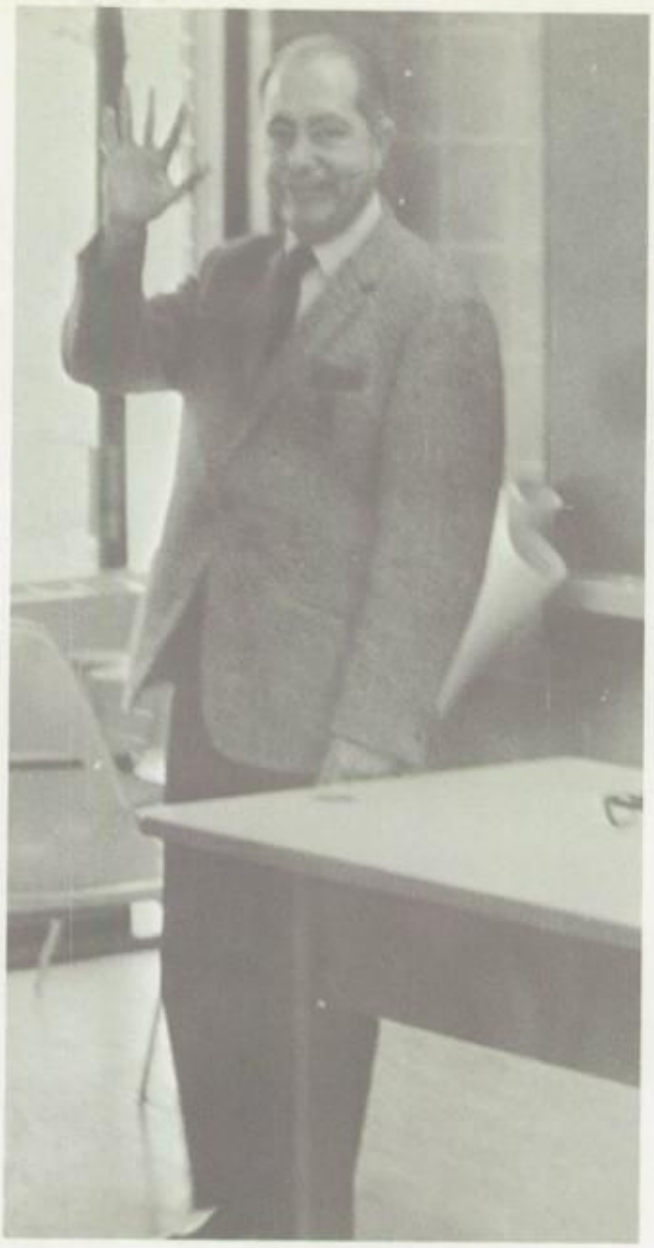
He has never denied us advice, believing we would come to him in our desire for answers. He constantly guides us upon the right path, yet is determined to have us resolve questions in the classroom for ourselves. He truly speaks from the heart and thus has commanded our respect and admiration.

He is the dedicated man with the booming voice, unique sense of humor and unequalled sincerity.

We the class of 1971 dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Allen M. Thomas.

Tributes

Latin, History (Ancient, European, American) you name it she'll teach it. Mrs. Goldeen has become a part of Park in the many years she has been here. Her creative and well-liked Greek plays have become a lasting tradition at Park. Mrs. Goldeen has always been a patient and willing friend to us at school. She is firm in all her convictions and a week does not proceed without several frantic and high-pitched discussions on some facet of life. We respect her many and varied efforts at Park and would like to pay tribute to Mrs. Miriam Goldeen to express our gratitude for her generousity and determination to instill knowledge and understanding in her students.



No matter how impossible his math classes seem to be Dr. Hailpern always manages to brighten our spirits in life's less happier moments. We all respect his fine mind and are entirely grateful to his unmitigated patience in his desire to have us learn from him. He knows each of his students as individuals, each having separate capabilities and has us confront mathematics with sympathetic understanding and good nature. He works so diligently to have us understand that we do in turn strive for success. His comments are unique — so Hailpernian — "This, this, and that, finish, 3 cheers!" For Dr. Hailpern.

Then sing, ye Birds, sing, sing a joyous song!
And let the young Lambs bound
As to the tabor's sound!
We in thought will join your throng,
Ye that pipe and ye that play,
Ye that through your hearts to-day
Feel the gladness of the May!
What through the radiance which was once so bright
Be now for ever taken from my sight,
Though nothing can bring back the hour
Of splendor in the grass, of glory in the flower;
We will not grieve, rather find
Strength in what remains behind;
In the primal sympathy
Which having been must ever be;
In the soothing thoughts that spring
Out of human suffering;
In the faith that looks beyond,
In years that bring the philosophic mind.

Mary Antonia Boylan

Molly joined us at Park only last year but within that short time her effervescence has radiated to all she has come in contact with. Her enthusiasm in Park's activities is endless. Molly can always be depended upon to accomplish any desired task. She is genuinely refreshing and answers all questions with a smile. Apathy is simply unknown to Mol, she is spontaneously thoughtful, happy, the first to laugh and the last to cry.

Thomas Edward Lewin

Tommy, a jack of all trades, is the person who can get everyone laughing at 8:30 in the morning. His wit can be seen all the time. But we can never dismiss the serious side of Tommy.

His personality is a balance of a fine mind and a funloving spirit. Clark Gable stache, flashing smile, low chuckle, and fancy clothes all combined to make Tommy one hell of a guy. At 3 to 5 Tommy can seen as co-captain of the soccer team or on the ski slopes, but Tommy is there when we need him.

"Nothing is so strong as gentleness; nothing so gentle as real strength."

Duke's contribution to sports in the past three years has exemplified the meaning of competition and the will to win. Whether on the football field, basketball court, or in the hundred yard dash, Duke has displayed his athletic excellence.

Duke is the guy with the everlasting cool. He will listen faithfully to you, then wait a second, flash his big bright smile, and give you a humorous but honest reply. One can easily percieve that within his mind lies very sensitive and personal thoughts. Duke is a man who possesses seriousness of purpose, commands respect, and who has a deep sense of understanding that enables all of us to trust him.

Peggy — deep brown eyes, Peggy — a laugh when needed, Peggy — a willingness to be a friend, a friend to understand. All these signify qualities of true companionship. All of this and so much more is Peggy.

Lunch at The Red Barn — not with one person, but with the whole Upper School! Join glee club — can't sing — so what! Join! Official tennis skip out! A thought on the spur of the moment! Laughter! Love! Joy! Peggy — you're quite some friend!

Kayrl Nancy Berger

Karyl has been an energetic and enthusiastic member of the Park community for many years. Her determination to succeed has become contagious. Here's a gal who doesn't know the meaning of "I can't."

If you can catch her rushing to shake a hand at the airport or to support her man at a rally at campaign time, she can give you more information about the candidates than the newspaper. Facts and figures, pros and cons, Karyl has them. You can count on her for a heated and exciting discussion. She lives with energy, humor and a perceptive mind.

"Happiness comes of the capacity to feel deeply, to enjoy simply, to think freely, to risk life to be needed."

Gary Robert Allen

Gary combines a quick wit and a glib tongue to keep us constantly aware of his presence. He has a stock of unexpected comments to meet any situation. With insight into many problems and a style of expression that can't be put into words, Gary shows little hesitation in offering his sound opinion. His strength lies in his confidence he has in himself. Serious only when direly necessary, Gary will be remembered for his humorous antics and optomism.

Nancy is characterized by her easy-going manner, her carefree attitude, and her smile for everyone. She is a loyal friend and can always be depended upon for a kind word. She projects a certain calm and quiet attitude yet is an enthusiastic and thoughtful conversationalist. She is a responsible organized girl, whose efforts have been devoted to the almost impossible task of editing the Spark.

Nancy asks questions and seeks her own answers. She is always willing to help others solve their problems, but never forces her own opinions on them. Her determination to achieve is contagious; her earnestness is admired by all.

A hundred different pairs of bells, an unconcealed giggle and a genuine charm that describes youth, this is Jeannie. Beneath an apparent shy and meek exterior there lies a very involved being. Her life is other people. The feelings she has for them are true. She shares their happiness and their tears; always unpredictable a girl of serious thought and carefree joy.

Robert Misner Rose

As a newcomer to Park's senior class this year he has managed to adapt himself quite readily to the upside down life at Park. Bob has radiated his wit and charm through the school, and is willing to become a part of whatever endeavor his companions may undertake. He is often found studying in the library which in itself is a noteworthy accomplishment, or pacing himself for cross country. Bob has perfected the famous Red Barn Sprint and has proved himself to be a man of sincerity to his school and new found friends.

Shelley Cassandra Katz

An inimitable "So?" at the end of a long psychology class, and a wild dash for the parking lot at the earliest possible moment characterize Shelley, whose faith in the lighter side of life is indicative of her lively spirited mind.

Shelley understands people and their moods. She is able to both laugh and cry with another person. Most of the time Shelley is a wonderful unaffected "Silly Kid" who can change a comrade's mood from grinds to giggles.

Art: a dependable and completely trustworthy individual in the senior class, always ready and willing to offer his aid in any situation, run an errand or just cheer you up in the course of a gloomy day.

For some strange reason he prefers a hearty meal at HoJo's rather than first period Science but you'd never catch him missing a day without his newly adopted friend the computer. His ability in mathematics is outstanding and he is overly anxious to assimilate as much as possible in this field.

Art's generousity and good nature will be remembered.

Sistie has contributed so much to Park. Whether it is cheering, playing field hockey, working for A.F.S. or taking part in the Greek play she gives nothing short of her best.

A warm and generous person, she is always cheerful and ready to listen to your problems and just as quick to laugh over your experiences. Her manner of expression is beautiful in its simplicity and deep in its sincerity.

Ann Timmerman Cordes

Ann is steadfast, yet sensitive to others. She has a strong will that enables her to translate her desires into action. Her influence is great and her opinions are strong because she believes them to be. Ann is convinced if something should be done, she must do it; as shown by her diligent leadership of the Orc. Her contributions to Park are many, but she would not deny that she has been well rewarded.

Valerie Ann Rapp

Val is one of those rare warm persons who takes the time to know each person as a unique individual. She is cheerful and friendly and always responsive to the problems or conversations around her. Val listens, thinks and helps anyone with their troubles and never hesitates to join in the laughter over a humorous incident. Determination is her overall virtue. She completes any job with skill and care. Her unselfishness is untiring and her ability to get along with everyone is so well admired.

Marsha Josephine Broquedis

"She was like the rainbow you find hard to believe, changing moods and faces all the time."

"We're just a bunch of turkeys in this zoo!!" From the rear of the class meeting, assembly or in the dining room comes the uncontrollable laughter of Marsha. Her mischievous antics and candid remarks are spontaneously shared with all of us. Life at Peter Park School has its ups and downs and Marsha never refrains from letting everyone know just when things are up. She has definite goals towards which she works and her Park Spirit will never wane.

Jeffery Alan Rochwarger

The eyes are the sum of the man. They have the core of the person within them. They express fire, happiness and determination. They can on occasion droop in despair. Live easily, enjoy always, help others enjoy; life is all too short. Jeff has an inquiring mind and an unceasing desire to fight for his opinions. His wit hits the target every time; a low chuckle, a gleaming eye, lightening smile, run easy and win; shoot steady and score. Jeff speaks what is in his mind as he strives for self expression. He rejects all but the genuine qualities of life.

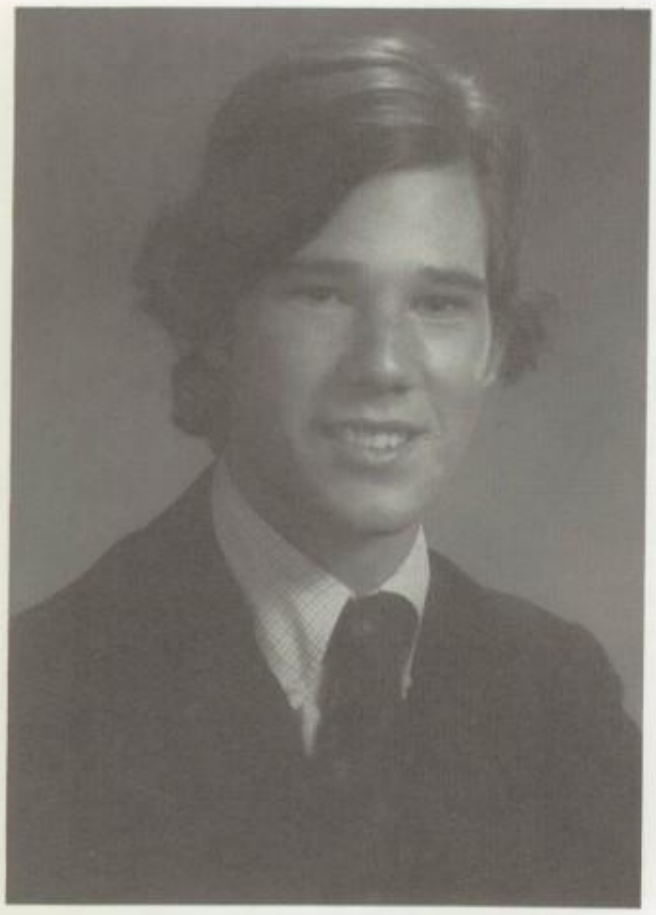
"The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute."

Thomas Lathrop Munschauer



"It really doesn't matter if I'm wrong or right, where I belong I'm right — where I belong..."

In his thoughts and deeds, Tom is a man of goodness and direction. He is characterized by boistrous laughter and a constant refrain of comic remarks. Tom's interests and concerns are widespread, for Munch shusses down the slopes with finesse and performs diligently in class with equal earnestness.

Before each Spark deadline he may be found in the office working far into the morning hours and making comments that are not only outrageous but ... WHERE'S THE LADDER DIAGRAM?!!

The integrity of a person is measured by his conduct. Munchie has shown steady achievements mixed with lightheartedness, all suggesting his firm intentions.

Activity is the key word that portrays Cathy. She never hesitates or tires from working at miscellaneous committees or bubbling over with enthusiasm at a game. Countless times she has helped to decorate the gym or bake cookies or just be there with a wry come-back or a willing ear. Her own inimitable style and immeasurable patience are incorporated in everything she does. The ability to be a competent leader and responsible follower is a rare quality few possess.

New at Park this year, Cliff has had little difficulty in adjusting to our madness. Best known for his "none to clean" jokes, he possesses the unique ability of sending even the most forlorn individual into hysterics. Cliff offers his friendship to all, as he is eager to lend an ear. Confident in himself, he gives joy and that joy is his reward.

Nancy Hill Gurney

Nancy projects her love of life, not through complex philosophy, but through her person. It is this projection that can not help but make everyone laugh and sit down to one of her best talks beginning — "Did you hear?" Her comments while skiing express her real personality. She is always the one to laugh and joke at one of her many classic falls or when she starts a run with, "Watch this one kids!" Finding fault in others is a very rare thing. "She praises loudly and blames softly." Gurney is carefree and nothing can make her drop her cloak of optimism.

"Without love and laughter there is no joy, live amid love and laughter."

Elizabeth Louise Obletz

"The most wasted day of all is that on which we have not laughed."

As president of the senior class this year and a class officer in previous years Betsy's direct and straightforward command of a subject has resulted in a job done efficiently and purposefully. A friendship with Betsy involves many interests and is filled with laughter and carefree moments. Her penetrating sarcasm is often a disguise for a warm, sincere and very understanding individual. Her vitality and outgoing personality have won her many friendships, love and respect.

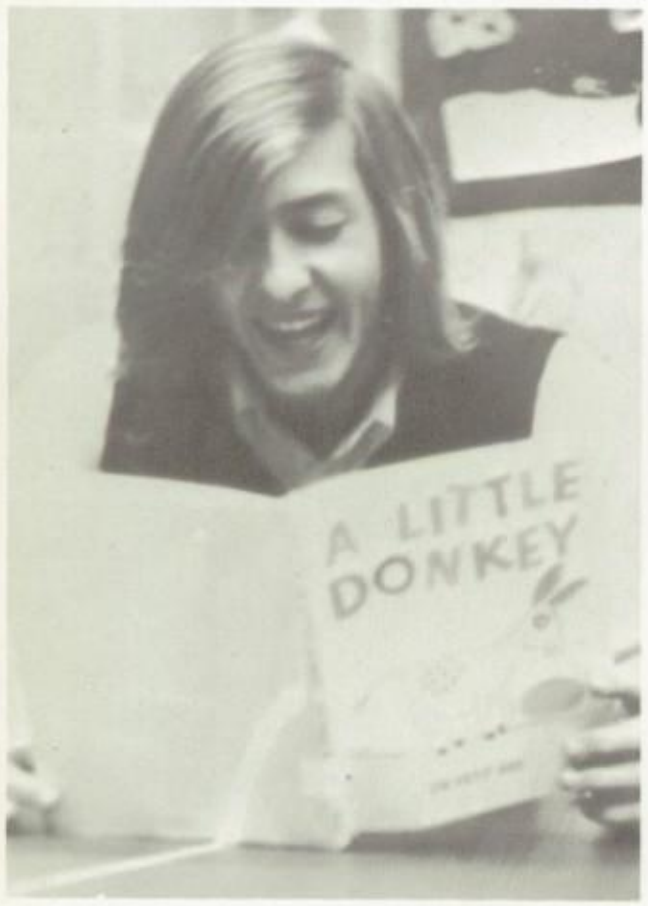
George William Irmish



George, the lad with the perpetual good nature, never lets anything aggravate him. He is capable of laughing off just about any consequence that befalls him; however, he is not impassive. If and when a situation calls for it, George can become serious and will devote his whole attention to the situation. His blithe spirit connotes his individuality; his individuality speaks of his willingness to accept things for what they are.

"Dancing is the loftiest, the most moving, the most beautiful of the arts, because it is no mere translation or abstraction from life; it is life itself."

Sarah Jane Mills

Fresh of spirit, beautiful of soul, this girl moves with grace and happiness. There exists something constant in Sally; some pure, undefined, isolated something that makes us all respect her. Truth is her guiding hand and Sally is firm in all her convictions. She is free, and lemonmerangy and has established a purpose and direction in life.

Susan Isabel Stein

It's Susie — Yippeee!! — one of the new and very special additions to our senior class this year. Special because she is indeed unique and because her goodness and felicity have spread to every corner of Park School. She has also contributed to Park in other ways. Her piercing Orc articles display her set convictions, as well as her literary abilities. Another gift which Sue has bestowed upon the Park School community is the subtle Stein humor. She leaves everyone astounded, and, oftentimes, in hysterics with her directness. However, Sue does have her serious moments when her genuine concern for others is revealed; making her a wonderful friend and classmate.

Deborah Ann Dustin

If it is meaningful to Debbie, be it as complicated as a Russian novel or as demanding as track, she gives it everything she has.

Versatility must surely be her nature, for she can be peacefully writing a poem or enjoying a quiet fall afternoon walk and at 3:15 run madly down the field brandishing her hockey stick. Her ability and vitality is amazing. She is a treasury of energy.

"The greatest of all pleasures is to give pleasure to the people we love."

Charles White Escher

Mellow yellow magical mystery tour aboard the magical mystery tour bus — old buses never die — going on for one more ride ... Charles, Charlie, alive and well living for tomorrow.

He's free to dream.
He's free to laugh.
He's free to be himself.
The trivial is unimportant;
What's important is to be happy.

Charlie's philosophy of life is honest. Its strength lies in its simplicity. Charlie's strength lies in his belief in it.

"My soul conselled me and charged me to answer and say: "I follow," when the unknown and the adventurous call unto me."

Rachel Cohen

We know Rachel to be a girl of infinite complexity able to express herself through every medium. Fresh and beautiful is her being maifested in her compassion and understanding of those around her. Rachel's spirit is genuine and her pensiveness indicates a depth of character and a quest for truth. She is characterized by a singular brilliance, and her sound mind enables her to embrace great things and small.

Benevolent, thoughtful, aware, kind — Rachel.

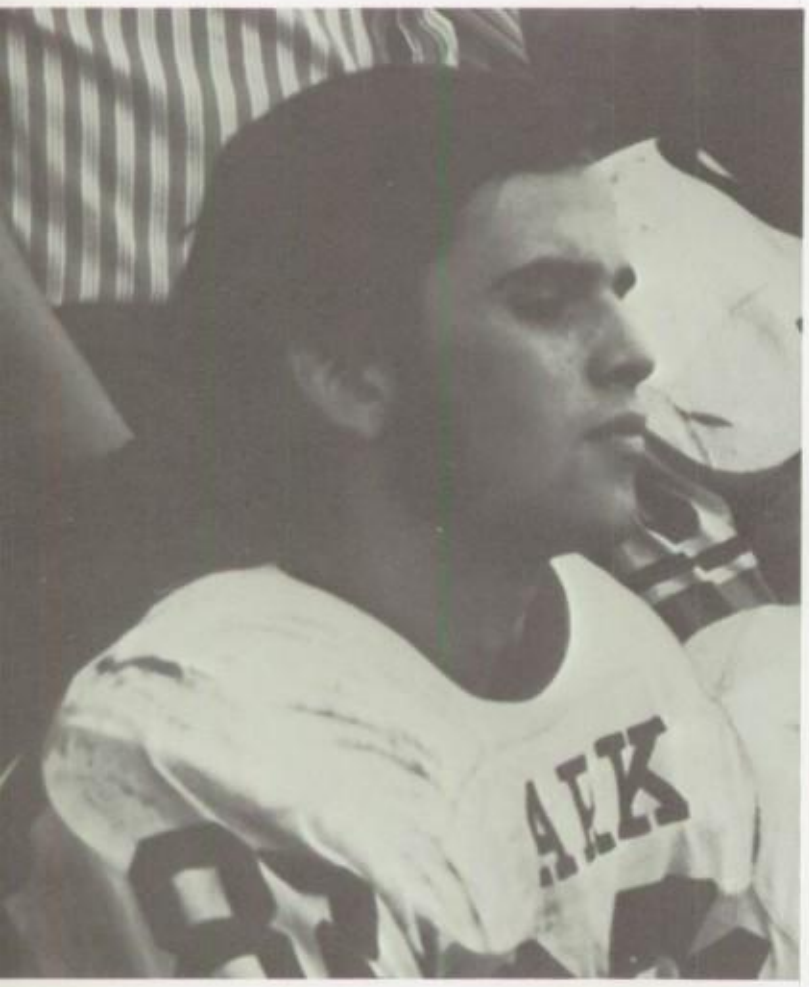
"Poetry is not an opinion expressed. It is a song that rises from a bleeding wound or a smiling mouth."

Mark Christopher Cox



"Still waters run deep." There is great strength behind the laughter and the jokes. He is adept in athletics and is always seen participating in one sport or another.

Mark is an amiable guy, who is a friend when needed and truly a man. He has a wide range of interests and is determined to enjoy life and insure meaning in it. He has been a keen competitor and valuable asset to Park. A little nonsense now and then has enabled Mark to find the happy medium between the serious and lighter side of life.

"True sportsmen are like true disputants, their whole delight is in the pursuit."

Melissa Winspear Banta

A welcome addition to Park this year is Missy Banta. Quietly answering a question in class or tallking with friends, Missy is friendly and sincere. Everyone who knows her realizes that, although Missy is shy, once you get to know her she becomes funny, talkative, and a lasting friend. She has a great concern for people around her and her individualism is expressed in her creative writing and love of the arts.

"And in sweetness of friendship let there be laughter and sharing of pleasures."

John Ned Lipsitz

A thundering orator, John can always be called upon when controversial situations such as sports or student rights are in question. Firm diplomacy draws the school together when a problem of major concern arises. Knowledge and understanding guide his opinions.

Quick-witted and determined, John can usually successfully accomplish anything he sets his mind to and probably always will.

Paul is a jokester, a comedian, and for some reason, always madly dashing someplace. It can be assumed he is late for class or someone is after him. His light-heartedness often alleviates a tense situation, but his jovial exterior is not the whole story. Paul has shown responsibility and thought when the occasion arises.

Either retrieving handballs from the top of the library, or chuckling through the halls, Paul loves fun and loves life.

Cathryn Ann Cohen

Cathy is consistantly peppy and her unfailing optimism and dedication to Park make her a great member of the senior class. She's one of the cute chicks in the class who takes an interest in everything. Cheerleading, A.F.S., Hockey, Skiing, etc. etc. etc.

Whenever a problem needs workmanship or leadership, Cathy proceeds to make the final outcome a success. She has given generously of herself, been happy and loved Park.

"Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it."

Deborah Rose Rinaldi

Debbie, although many times away from us, has always shown warmth and sincerity to others. Her years at Park have been productive and she radiates a certain calm and confidence that makes all of us respect her. We wish her joy and health in the future for her goodness is a reflection of a kind heart.

"Kindness is the golden chair by which mankind is bound together."

Michael Bernard Barry

Recognized as a bright and witty member of the senior class, Mike is a true individual. Celebrated for his unexpected and unpredictable comments, he shatters the monotony of any situation. But he is independent and skillfully expresses his opinions. His extraordinary literary ability shows keen perception and scholarship. Behind those sharp remarks is a thoughtful mind.

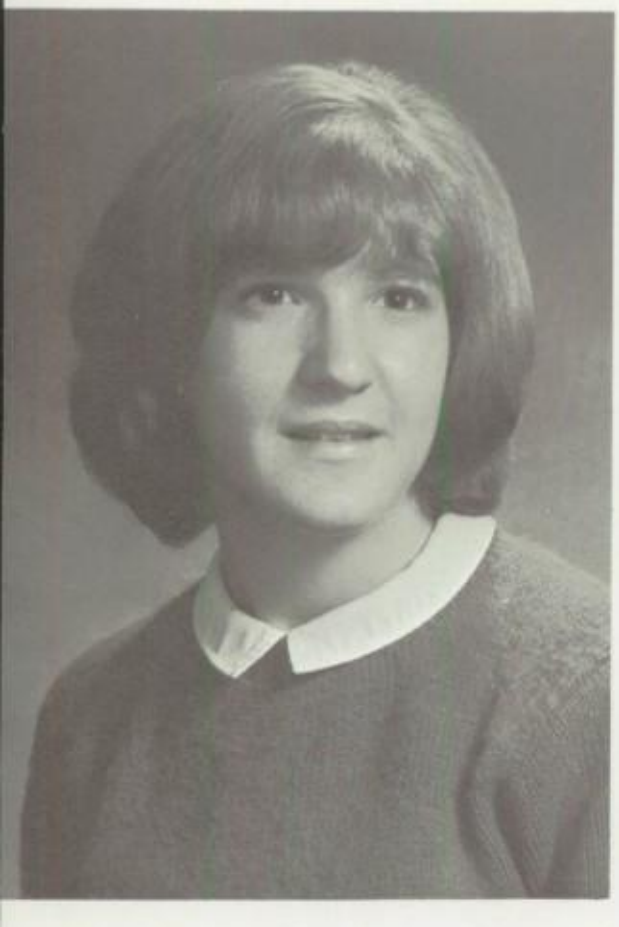
"Wit is my faculty, and pleasure my occupation."



Nina Eve Sandberg

Music casts a certain spell, creating a sensitive, warm, compassionate person.

The joy Nina finds in music radiates through her personality. The soft melodies of her flute express the same calmness we feel in her presence. The demands of music have taught her responsibility, patience and determination, all so evident and admirable in her character.

Field Hockey 1,2,3,4; Dance 1,2,3,4, Lacrosse 2,3; Track 1; Primavera 1,2,3, Glee Club 1,2,3,4; Face-It 3.

"Music is the only language in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing."

Michael Joseph Mascari

Mike is gentle and self-contained but once that outward shell is penetrated the quiet, retiring individual disappears and an eager interested participant is there in its place. His judgements are true and based on fact and is genuinely sincere in his expression. Michael is unique in his complete honesty. His willingness to accept responsibility regardless of the task has saved us from many a catastrophy.

Michael: a man who can face the future with laughter and courage.

"The only rose without thorns is friendship."

Beth belongs to a singular group of people who are very easy to joke with, but easier still to trust and be serious with. She is active in every respect; she is involved in class government and American Field Service, in addition to her other scholastic and athletic achievements. She has a sound mind and a constant nature.

Beth is always ready to listen and work. Her diligence touches everything with which she comes into contact. The contributions she has made have colored every aspect of Park School life; her friendly outlook has impressed every person.

Elizabeth Rosetta Rose

James S. Ross

The blue bomb comes racing down Chateau, swerves over the bottmless potholes and screeches to a hault. Out come Jim.

He is quite a pensive person, deeply involved in his own thoughts, He is determined to construct his goals. in life and fulfill them with enduring perserverence. He is kind and caring and has benefited from life at Park.

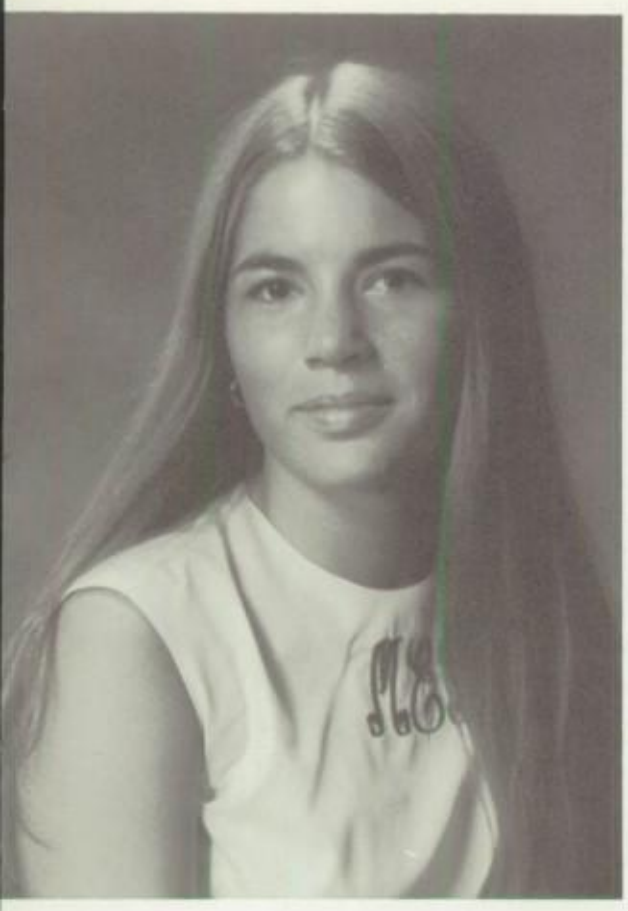
"I thus dispose of the superfluous and see things as they are."



"And in sweetness of friendship let there be laughter and sharing of pleasures."

Mary Elizabeth Robinson

Mary has the admirable talent of giving lonliness a kick in the pants to make room for companionship, conversation, and sometimes just a willing ear. There can be no doubt that her friendship is sincere, her kindness and her desire to help the disheartened is real. She laughs like the rest of us and her ever-constant smiling face displays her contentment with Park.

Self-confident, security and a smile!

Frederick Carl Roehl

Fred has a natural tendency to offer calmness in the midst of Park's hectic day to day life. Fred has spent many devoted years at Park and he has displayed direction and dedication in all he has attempted to do. Fred is genuinely honest and dependable, and has always offered a kind smile to those around him. His quick wit has penetrated many depressed situations and when called upon he responds with a willingness to help.

"A man is what he believes."

Kent Carter Jewett

Kent never hesitates to face life at Park with a smile. Throughout upper school he has displayed various athletic talents whether booting a goal in soccer or gracefully gliding over the ski slopes. Kent constantly projects a spirit of liveliness and friendliness. In harmony with his fun-loving humor is a dedication to serve Park and his schoolmates. Kent is convinced of his purpose, to be true to himself and search for meaning in the future.

"It is not what he has, nor even what he does which directly expresses the worth of a man, but what he is."

Lisa Wentworth Smith

Lisa possesses an active sense of laughter and humor. Never shy and never covering her sensitivity, she puts forth with great enthusiasm and determined effort in her participation in athletics, studies and activities. Field hockey, skiing, softball, she ploughs through them all with cheerfulness. She is one girl to respect; Lisa has established high goals in life and can be depended upon to attain them. She is a solid member of Park and has shown her concern for her school in her proficiency in everything she tackles.

Meredith Chapin Thomas

Merry radiates a certain constancy, an unfailing spirit of friendship and cheer. She is concerned with understanding and developing her self-awareness in order to understand and be aware of the people around her. She knows when silence will be more effective than dispute. Friendship is of great importance to her and, accordingly, her friends can depend upon her loyalty.

"There is no duty we underrate so much as the duty of being happy."

David Joseph Mols

David constantly shows that versitality and he are inseperable companions. His abilities in every sport have earned him the C.U.P.S. title annually through upper school. Besides his atheletic excellence, he is well aware of the other aspects of Park school activities. Dave has taken on the various and sundry jobs through the years that often no one else will take responsibility for. His winning smile and his determination to excell in all he does has won David the respect of the upper school.

Maud Margaret Naroll

Maud has become an official member of the senior class this year and has completed upper school in three years. She possesses a true, strong and sound mind that has the ability to equally embrace great things and small. She has been active in the Upper School council and has shown herself to have a definite direction and purpose in life. This direction encompasses responsibility. Maud has disciplined her own mind and is a trustworthy achiever.

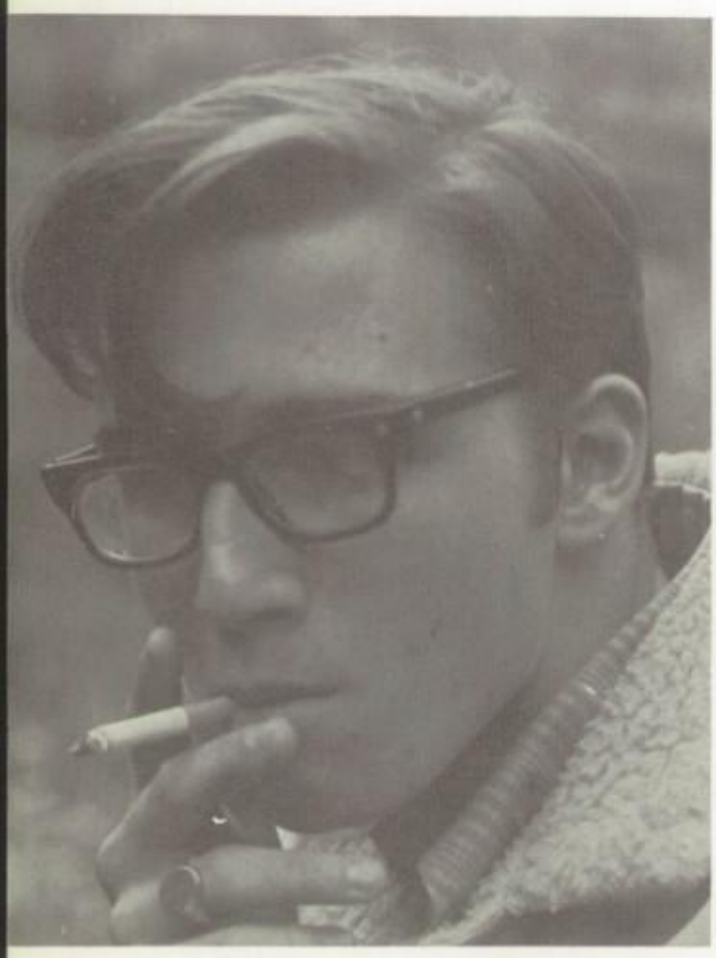
"I want no beginning to my dark — and no end to my depths."

Paul Alpár Juhász

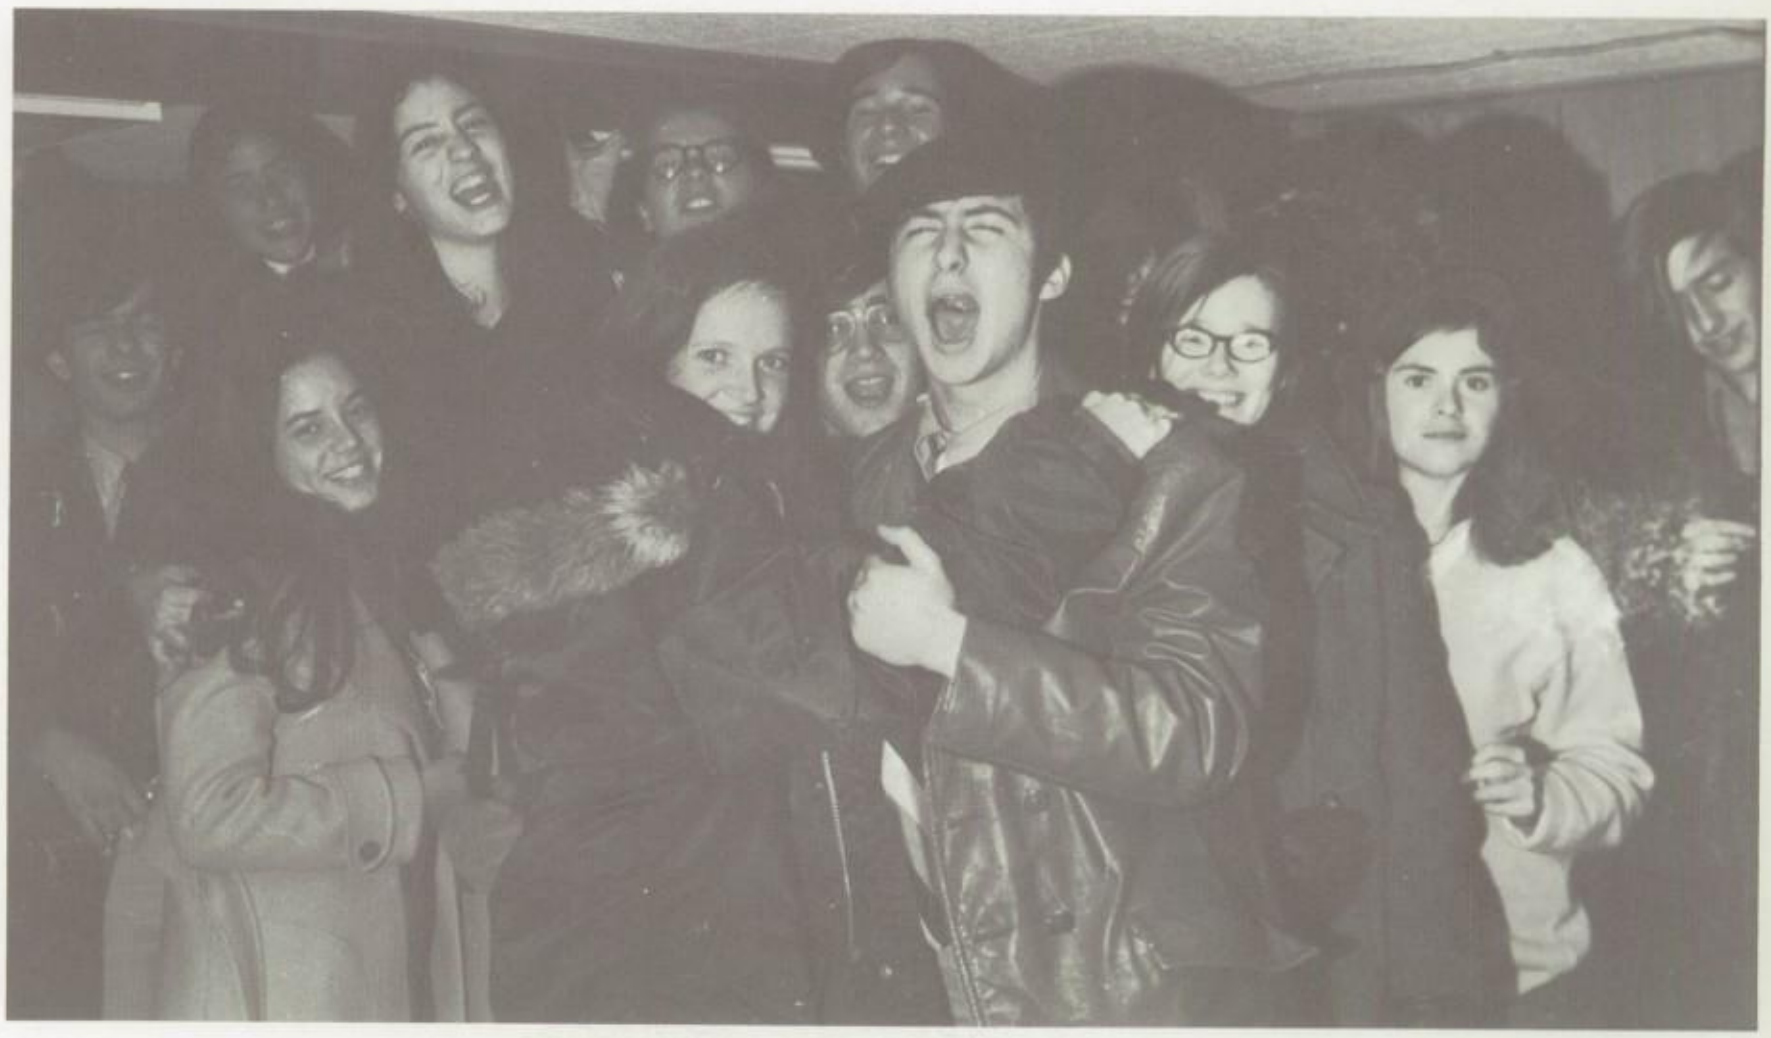


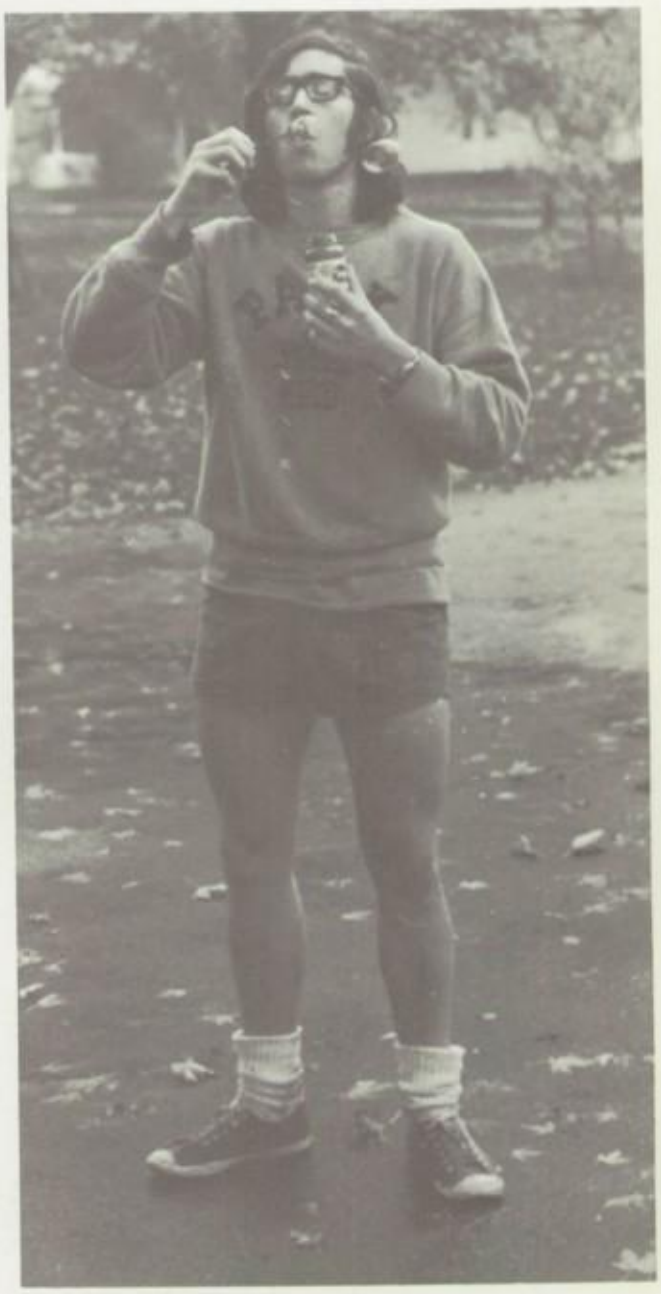
Paul, through his years at Park, has consistently shown his concern and enthusiasm for the committees and activities of the school. Sensitive, yet speaking with the convictions of a person well able to defend his ideas with zeal, Paul always stands firm on his beliefs. And most important, he is true to himself. A man of few words, his fierce determination to follow his heart is obvious.

Football 3; Wrestling 3,4; Glee Club 3; Yearbook Business co-editor 4.

"Be sober and doubt all things."

"The time has come," the Walrus said,
"To talk of many things;
Of shoes — and ships — and sealing wax —
Of cabbages — and kings —
And why the sea is boiling hot —
And whether pigs have wings."





They walked on, thinking of This and That, and by-and-by they came to an enchanted place on the very top of the Forest called Galleons Lap, which is sixty-something trees in a circle. It was the only place in the Forest where you could sit down carelessly, with-out getting up again almost at once and looking for somewhere else. Sitting there they could see the whole world spread out until it reached the sky. And Pooh, his back against one of the sixty-something trees, and his paws folded in front of him, said "Oh!" and "I didn't know," and thought how wonderful it would be to have a Real Brain which could tell you things. And by-and-by Christopher Robin came to an end of things, and was silent, and he sat there looking out over the world, and wishing it wouldn't stop.

But Pooh was thinking too, and he said suddenly to Christopher Robin:

"Is it a very Grand thing to be a Knight?"

"Well, it's not as grand as a King," said Christopher Robin, and then, as Pooh seemed disappointed, he added quickly, "but it's grander than Factors."

"Could a Bear be one?"

"Of course he could!" said Christopher Robin.

Then, suddenly again, Christopher Robin, who was still looking at the world with his chin in his hands, called out "Pooh!"

"Yes, Christopher Robin?"

"I'm not going to do Nothing any more."

"Never again?"

"Well, not so much. They don't let you." Pooh waited for him to go on, but he was silent again.

"Yes, Christopher Robin?" said Pooh helpfully.

"Pooh, promise you won't forget about me, ever. Not even when I'm a hundred."

Pooh nodded. "I promise," he said. Still with his eyes on the world Christopher Robin put out a hand and felt for Pooh's paw.

"Pooh," said Christopher Robin earnestly, "if I-if I'm not quite —" he stopped and tried again — "Pooh, whatever happens, you will understand, won't you?"

"Understand what?"

"Oh nothing," He laughed and jumped to his feet. "Come on!"

"Where?" said Pooh.

"Anywhere," said Christopher Robin.

seniors are the basis for having mature, responsible people on and with the students of the campus to set examples and relate to nature etc. on the campus and throughout our campus life. they are always ready to put out a helping hand for those not as fortunate as them. life in the united states was made for seniors. they are the basis of our society. m.j.m.

a tribute

The Spark Boards would like to pay special tribute to Mr. Hebert for his tremendous voluntary services in helping our photographers.

For some incomprehendable reason, on the eve of every deadline, a few crazy Sparkers could be found in an hysterical mad rush to finish their work. Little strange figures could be seen darting up and down the road from the dark room to the Spark office with last minute pictures. Sometimes until the wee hours of the morn, Mr. Heebie Geebie would remain at school helping and working to develop and print the badly needed pictures. Without his unselfish participation the yearbook would probably never have been produced. Thank you Mr. Hebert, we guess we all love you.
